REGISTRATION GUIDE

LETTER FROM THE DIRECTORS

To Our Esteemed Delegates from around the World,

Welcome to UCBMUN XXXI! We are Hannah Audrey Fielder and Katie Quynh Tran, and we are so honored to serve as your Secretary-General and Director-General for the oldest premier collegiate Model UN conference on the West Coast. We are incredibly thrilled, on behalf of our lovely Secretariat and amazing Staff, to welcome you back to the InterContinental San Francisco to participate in a weekend full of lively, intellectual, and exciting debate. We cannot wait to see what creative ideas all of our delegates come up with this year!

Famous for its creativity, counterculture, and commitment to social justice, San Francisco is the perfect place to host one of the largest West Coast conferences on the Collegiate circuit. As the city that hosted the signing of the UN Charter in 1945, San Francisco holds a special place in the spirit of debate, and UCBMUN holds these ideals close to our hearts. At UCBMUN, we aim to create innovative committees and challenge delegates to reach their full potential in international debate. Whether going back in time to discuss French Polynesian policy, into televised media to make or break hearts, or discussing the ethics of global water quality for the future, our conference promises some of the most engaging committees in Collegiate Model UN. Our dedicated team of over 100 staffers, all with competitive experience on the circuit, is committed to fostering a weekend filled with substantive debate, inventive committee mechanics, and the opportunity to connect with your fellow delegates both inside and outside the committee.

At UCBMUN, the well-being of our delegates is our utmost priority. Please do not hesitate to reach out to us regarding anything from conference registration to the best places to eat in San Francisco! We are always available to address any issues that may arise. Once again, on behalf of us and our staff, we are beyond excited to welcome you back to the historic city of San Francisco. Join us at UCBMUN XXXI from March 11th to March 14th, 2027, for an unforgettable weekend.

We can't wait to meet you!

UNESCOTopic A:

UNESCO brings delegates together to address the preservation of cultural heritage and traditional knowledge in an increasingly globalized world. In Topic A, delegates will debate how to preserve traditional cuisines while allowing food cultures to adapt to globalization, modern food systems, and changing consumer preferences.

Topic B:

Delegates will consider how to protect Indigenous farming practices and agricultural knowledge while supporting biodiversity, sustainability, and Indigenous communities. Through standard General Assembly procedure, delegates will work to develop international solutions that balance cultural preservation with modern development.

UNEPTopic A:

Topic A focuses on the growing global crisis of water pollution and declining water quality. Industrial waste, agricultural runoff, inadequate sanitation, and aging infrastructure continue to threaten freshwater ecosystems and public health. Delegates will explore sustainable water management strategies, improved infrastructure, and international cooperation to reduce pollution and ensure access to clean water.

Topic B:

Topic B examines the growing threat of waterborne diseases in post-disaster and refugee camp settings, where damaged infrastructure and limited access to clean water can quickly lead to major outbreaks. Delegates will debate how the international community can strengthen emergency response protocols, improve sanitation, and ensure rapid access to safe water and medical care. Through greater coordination and preparedness, the committee must develop solutions to protect vulnerable populations during humanitarian crises.

UNSC: Suez Canal

Topic A:

The sands of the Sinai are shifting as Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser nationalizes the Suez Canal, challenging decades of European influence in the Middle East. Britain and France see the move as a threat to their economic and geopolitical interests, while the United States, Soviet Union, and United Nations weigh their own responses. As delegates in an emergency session of the United Nations Security Council, you must navigate competing claims of sovereignty, international law, global commerce, and military escalation. The future of the postwar world hangs in the balance.

Realize, Real eyes, Real lies: ao3/wattpad/tumblr/fanfiction.net vs. AI

Fandom as you know is drowning. Publishing houses have quietly slipped generative AI models into their recent releases and slowly AI tools have colonized every fic archive. Readers can no longer tell if the update they just devoured took a human twelve hours, or a machine twelve seconds. You are modern day literatures' last hope. You, the writers, who've built this world word by word, whose slow-burns broke comment sections, whose fandoms would riot would you vanish. Now, you're being asked to hand over your pen over to something that has read everything you've ever written, and can now write it back to you faster, cheaper, and tirelessly.

Press Corps

As short form content becomes the dominant source of entertainment across the globe, television networks are facing a troubling question: how can they produce content that retains a viewer's attention? In this committee, delegates will take on the roles of network television screenwriters, turning events happening across committees into potential storylines for hit shows and posing their observations as their own pitches.

Fleetwood Mac

It's late 1976. The biggest musical group at the time, Fleetwood Mac, is in the process of recording what will become one of the greatest albums of the 70s, Rumours. However, the band faces many conflicts that threaten to end them. They are rapidly rising towards unprecedented levels of both fame and notoriety as the band members and those invested in the band's success grapple with the growing strife within the group. How will Fleetwood Mac manage to break the chain of constant turmoil and escape from this experience unscathed?

French Polynesia Nuclear Testing (1995)

France's final nuclear tests in French Polynesia in 1995 sparked international outrage over environmental damage, health concerns, and much more, all while protests and diplomatic tensions spread across the Pacific. As delegates meet, they must balance France's military interests with environmental protection, accountability, compensation, and the political rights of French Polynesia, decisions that will shape the region's future. The fate of French Polynesia, and France's place on the world stage, now rests in your hands

SATURDAY NIGHT LIVE

“And Live From The Writer’s Room It’s Saturday Night Live!”: SNL Writers Room

It’s 6:00 PM on a Saturday, and Studio 8H is in chaos. With Lorne Michaels mysteriously gone, legendary Saturday Night Live cast members, writers, and producers must keep the show running while deciding who will lead its next era. As the clock counts down to air time, delegates will navigate celebrity drama, PR disasters, last-minute rewrites, and the ever-changing definition of what is actually funny.

Imjin War

In 1592, the Korean Peninsula faces invasion as Toyotomi Hideyoshi’s armies use Korea as a stepping stone toward Ming China. Led by Hyujeong, thousands of Buddhist monks have taken up arms to defend the Joseon Kingdom—but the conflict extends far beyond the battlefield. As soldiers, generals, and incarnations of the Buddhist Pantheon, delegates must fight both the invading armies and the forces of Mara, who seeks to trap humanity in an endless cycle of suffering. Will the monks save the homeland and usher in a new age of enlightenment, or has the Buddhist world entered its final days?

One Inch to the Left: The 1968 Democratic National Convention

The year is 1968, and America is tearing itself apart. After surviving an attempted assassination and winning the California primary, Robert F. Kennedy heads to Chicago to face Hubert Humphrey and Eugene McCarthy in a Democratic Party divided by Vietnam, civil unrest, and competing visions for the future. Inside the convention hall, delegates will trade favors, form alliances, and battle over the party's platform while thousands of protesters gather outside. The gavel is about to fall, and what happens in Chicago may determine the future of America.

South Park Elementary

South Park is in chaos. Strange conspiracies, political scandals, supernatural threats, and increasingly ridiculous disasters have pushed the small Colorado town to the brink. Delegates will take on the roles of South Park's most influential residents and must decide how to restore order—or take advantage of the chaos for themselves.

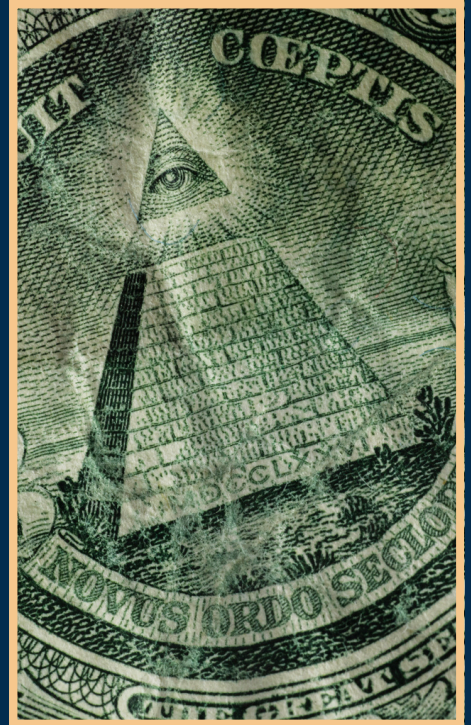

Relationships Soured: A Bacchic Bankruptcy in Ancient Rome

Rome is running out of bread but drowning in wine as farmers across the Empire abandon grain fields for lucrative vineyards. Emperor Domitian has responded by banning new vineyards in Italy and ordering half of those in the provinces destroyed, angering landowners, farmers, and provincial governors. Delegates must balance Rome's food supply, economic wealth, religious concerns, and growing unrest as strange omens spread across the Empire.

Illuminati BoD

The Illuminati has long operated beyond the reach of governments, corporations, and the public eye, quietly shaping the world through its network of powerful leaders and institutions. However, the digital age, rising geopolitical powers, and internal ideological divisions now threaten its centuries of secrecy and influence. Delegates will serve on the Illuminati's Board of Directors, overseeing covert operations, financial resources, recruitment, public narratives, and internal power struggles. Every decision carries consequences, and a single mistake could expose the organization to the world.

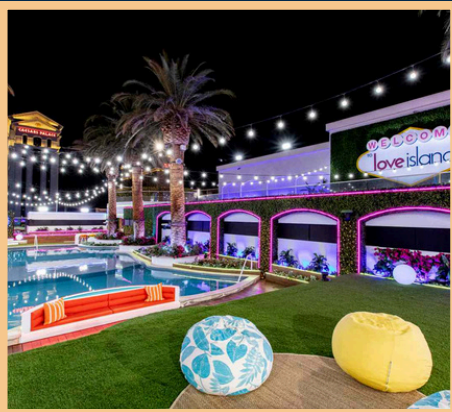

JCC: Too Hot for Temptation: Love Island All Stars

As one of the hottest, steamiest, juiciest TV shows known to television history in the 21st century, Love Island All Stars makes it's way into the hearts of millions Americans. Love is in the air, but so are the bombshells who are ready to step on toes to catch the feeling. As summer islanders come to the Villa for a chance at love, anyone, at any time, can make or break connections, even when they feel most secure. Delegates must work towards finding their connection, even through the trials and tribulations that challenges, and even spicier, Casa Amor, offers.

Casa Amor

Loyalties will be tested, heads will be turned, and even the strongest couples may begin to crack. New Islanders, hidden agendas, unexpected arrivals, and shocking twists threaten to turn the Villa upside down. Will you stay loyal to your connection, risk it all for someone new, or find yourself standing alone at the fire pit? In Casa Amor, nobody is ever as closed off as they claim to be.

The Villa

Navigate secret alliances, shocking twists, producer interference, and betrayals as delegates fight to control the game. Public votes, recoupling ceremonies, and new bombshells can change everything in an instant—so the only question is: will you stay loyal, or will your head be turned?
